Christian Keuschnigg,
University of St. Gallen (FGN-HSG),
CEPR and CESifo

Christian Keuschnigg is a professor of economics with specialization in public economics at the university of St. Gallen. He was awarded a doctorate (PhD) in public economics in 1987 at the University of Innsbruck and the 'Venia Docendi' (Habilitation) in public economics and economic policy in 1995 at the university of Vienna. He was a visiting researcher for extended periods at the universities of Bonn 1989/90, Princeton 1994/95 and Oxford 2007/08. He was economist and assistant professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies in Vienna until 1997, was appointed a professor of public economics at the University of Saarland in 1997 and is a professor of economics at the university of St. Gallen since 2000. Since 2009, he serves as chair of the public economics section of the German Economics Association. He is a research fellow of the research networks CEPR (London), CESifo (Munich), Oxford University Centre for Business Taxation und NetSpar (Tilburg). He is editor of 'FinanzArchiv/Public Finance Analysis' and coeditor of 'European Economic Review' and is a member of the Editorial Board of the 'Journal of Pension Economics and Finance'. His research interests include the theory of taxation; fundamental tax reform; corporate finance and capital market frictions; and the welfare state, aging and the labor market. He has written several books and published, among others, in Journal of Public Economics, Journal of Economic Growth, Oxford Economic Papers, Journal of International Economics and Economic Policy.

UNIVERSITY OF ST. GALLEN
www.fgn.unisg.ch/keuschnigg
January 3, 2012